The first Day of Mourning for Animals in Laboratories

May 30th, 2010 -

Stop Animal Experimentation Now (SAEN), is calling for May 30, 2010 to be the "first Memorial Day/Day of Mourning for Animals in Laboratories." In recent years, SAEN has been a primary promoter of World Laboratory Animal Liberation Week (WLALW), the week surrounding April 24th, observed annually by animal activist.

During this time, please be vigilant in areas where research animals are kept and report any suspicious activity near/around those areas to Law Enforcement.
